BULL'S HEAD DINNER.

A delicious bull's head dinner was given at the Imperial saloon, owned by Messrs. Downing and Corkery, Wednesday afternoon, to their friends and patrons. The dinner was a most appetizing one and the bull's head was cooked to a nicety, which can be attested to by the Bonanza force who were among the beneficiaries.

AUTO PARTY IS ROBBED BY THUGS

RENO, Aug. 6.—One of the most daring robberies ever committed in this city or in the vicinity of this city took place on the south Virginia road between Reno and Moana Springs last night about 12 o'clock, when three highwaymen, armed with revolvers, held up and robbed Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wheeler and their two daughters, and took from them all of the jewelry and money, with the exception of a diamond ring belonging to Mr. Wheeler and valued at $800, which he dropped in the road, and a gold watch and a chain of gold beads which Miss Mildred Wheeler concealed in her mouth while the thieves were searching her.

Mr. and Mrs. Wheeler and their two daughters had been out of town to a point near Huffaker's, where Mr. Wheeler was engaged in superintending the repair of a ditch. They did not start home until quite late and then discovered that there was only sufficient gas to keep one lamp on their automobile burning dimly. They accordingly drove slowly to avoid running into anything.

They had reached a point on the Virginia road within the city limits and nearly opposite the home of Chris Johnson when three men sprang from behind a house which had been left in the road by house-movers, and fired four shots into the air, at the same time calling upon them to halt. Wheeler immediately stopped the machine and got out, followed by his wife and two daughters. They were all forced to line up by the side of the machine with their hands over their heads and while two of the robbers kept them covered with revolvers the third robber searched them for valuables.

With great presence of mind Mr. Wheeler dropped his valuable diamond ring into the dust at his feet and his little daughter Mildred placed her small gold watch and chain of gold beads in her mouth, and then kept her mouth closed until after the thieves had left.

After stripping rings valued at more than $600 from Mrs. Wheeler's hands and forcing Sam Wheeler to give up a valuable gold watch and $15 in cash the thieves forced the Whealers to get in their machine and drive back to Moana, threatening to shoot them and also to shoot their auto full of holes if they attempted to escape by driving into Reno.
